All credit goes to science, which helps us progress in any field. The modern age is better known as the scientific age. Some people are inadequate technology and do not use scientific miracles. Today youngsters can be seen busy with chatting, surfing, playing video games and what not. They have become part of growth in the digital world. But all this leads our children to the wrong path. They got distracted and it cramped their social as well as academic development. They need to understand that these high-tech devices are very useful to us. They must be informed that the deliberate use of these devices is beneficial to us. We can get every information about various things that are otherwise unknown to us. He made the world small and through the button to reach. Science should be used for human well-being, not as a destructive force. Inventions should not be used for selfish purposes. It should be used to save lives and destroy lives. Science can really work wonders, but only if it is used correctly. On the third question. On the occasion of World Health Day, write an article about a 150-word school news letter on the importance of physical health in our lives, using the following clues. (Term of office of the Board- 12012, establishment of EC2,039) (5 characters) Clues: Common sense lives in a healthy body. Lack of time for physical activity due to modern life needs. Ignoring health increases the risk of many diseases. Discipline is the key to solving these problems. Answer: The importance of physical health in our lives Common Sense lives in a healthy body. It's a proverb that everyone needs to hear or read. But very little to pay attention to it. A study of obesity was conducted and many related diseases were identified among adolescents. Obesity specifically refers to excess body fat. This is due to a sedentary lifestyle that was found between the ages of 12 and 14. These teenagers are usually found sitting and observing T.V. programs. They don't go on the field in any physical game. They are found using public transport to school, not riding a bike or on foot. Today, children like to eat fast food and drink carbonated drinks that contain too many calories and are harmful to growing children. Such children later become prone to many diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, high blood pressure and stroke. It's a health risk. It is also associated with higher rates of certain types of cancer. Not only that, obesity makes us feel unattractive. Modern time requirements have increased so much that people don't have time for physical activity. They ignore health and face the risk of many diseases. However, it is well said that discipline is the key to solving these problems. There are many treatments, but the benefits of exertion are many any other way to lose weight. Not only will exercise help you lose weight, but it improves your fitness and flexibility and improves skin texture. Exercise is also free from the harmful side effects of crash diets, slimming capsules and heat treatments used in slimming centers. On the fourth question. Recently, there was a news item in the Times of India related to RTE, where the Supreme Court ordered every school, including private, to immediately provide free education to students in socially and economically back classes. This law undoubtedly heralded a new era in the country's formal education. You still think this is a big challenge for the nation. Based on the input and ideas of the Education Department 2, write about 150 words in the article New Hope with the right to education. (Term of office of the Board - 1 2012 EC2,055) (5 characters) Answer: New Hope with the Right to Education (RTE) New Law - The right to education was passed by parliament recently and it was implemented as well. She predicted a new era of formal education in the country. Everyone knows that a country with illiterate citizens cannot reap the benefits of progress. Everything, including the economy, can cripple poverty, unemployment and exploitation, which are the so-called fruits of illiteracy. All Indian citizens should join their hands to make this act a success. The most important thing to do is to deter child labour. We need to make sure that all children go to school and do not work in any place, whether home or industrial. Even a girl child has the right to get educated and we need to ensure literacy for a girl child as well. This act really enlightened a new hope for progressive and literate India, which is the dream of every Indian. You can learn English grammar in different classes of our articles, such as dozens, conditions, prepositions, story writing, unseen excerpt, Report Writing, etc. on the fifth question. You're Keerti/ Kunal. Write an article about 150 words about the importance of landing and maintain the green cover in the country to avoid pollution and global warming. (5 characters) Answer: The importance of afforestation forests is a natural gift to mankind. Since ancient times, man has been addicted to forest wood, fuel, food, etc. But these days a man began to cut trees for his own selfish purposes. He became apathetic to them. The time has come when a tree plantation has become one of the main issues that we should not only be aware of, but also engage at an individual level. Given the many environmental advantages of trees and plants, it is necessary for us to preserve the damage that is vital to maintain the ecological balance on our planet. The importance of tree plantations dates back to ancient times, when ancient Indian kings, rulers and monarchs helped much stress planting trees. They ensured that their locations gardens to fully bloom. In the time of the modern, this tradition of tree planting was taken over by the local government of our cities, whose wholehearted efforts were to plant as many trees as possible on roads and parks. We need to understand that trees regulate our climate and keep an eye on the world. They protect against soil erosion and help filter water. However, deforestation negligently has made the land dry and infertile. All non-renewable resources have been exploited. To prevent all this and maintain the green coating, we need to accept the trees and check their disappearance. Trees are life. Save them, protect them, plant them. Thank you Keerti question 6. Education should not allow any discrimination. All children have equal opportunities in education. However, we can see that in many families girls have not benefited from the desired education. If you help from the education unit, these points and your ideas, write an article about 150 words on the topic. Educate the girl on the importance of the child. (Term of office of the Board- 12012, establishment of EC2,063) (5 characters) No difference in learning ability or interest. Brings understanding to yourself and the family. , educated mothers will always convey education to their daughters. Eliminates gender discrimination at work. Makes a decision with an open mind. Ask for severe punishment if families marry off girls without education. In order to make healthy progress, society as a whole must be educated in one way or another and the other could be vocational training. Answer: The importance of educating a girl child child first teacher is a mother, but in our country it is not important for the education of the girl's child. It seems to be a waste of money for most parents. We need to understand that if we educate a man, we educate the person, but if we educate women, we will educate the whole family. Education is beneficial to the woman herself and her family. An educated girl can make a decision with an open mind and fight all social evils, such as child marriage, female infanticide, dowry, domestic violence. It is a fact that educated mothers will always provide education to their daughters, because they know that there is no difference between the learning abilities or interests of the boy and the girl. Education for a young girl means improving their labour standards and discriminating on grounds of sex at work. They may also be provided with vocational training in order to be self-sufficient and financially protected. So, because of the healthy progress of our society and the rise of our society, it is necessary to educate the girl. On question seven. Below is an excerpt from the magazine article: Fast Food and Its Nutritional Value Say Fast Food Has Nutritional Value is an oxymoron. There is absolutely nothing food about fast food. Fast food just feeds on hunger and/or your immediate craving. Fast food does not feed your body to use long-term energy or building materials, your body thrives on life itself. Write an article that will be published in your school journal expressing your concerns about the health risks caused by fast food in about 150 words. (Term of office of the Board- 12012, establishment of EC2,038) (5 characters) Answer: Fast food health risks during the modern quickly replace nutritious food cooked in the kitchen. This is because it is quickly and easily prepared. Fast food is affordable and tasty, because it is commercially served at low prices. On the market you can easily buy various fast foods, such as pizza, hamburgers, pre-sweetened grains, crisps, pasta, processed foods. These types of food do not have any nutrition. On the contrary, they are rich in cholesterol, sugar, sodium and low fiber, antioxidants, vitamins and minerals. These foods are dangerous to health. They cause blood pressure, causing hypertension and heart problems. Sometimes they also develop chronic degenerative disorders. They just feed hunger along with our immediate desire. They do not form the long-term energy or building materials used by our body in the form of nutritious food, such as fruits, vegetables, chapatis, impulses, etc. Everyone should understand the importance of healthy and nutritious food and should say no to fast food. Parents should ensure that their children eat healthy, homemade food. Children should also stop unhealthy food shackles and follow the diet charts offered by their parents. Parents.
